Introduction to the Collection

Betty Morris, a resident of the Fountain Inn facility once located at the southeast intersection of Third Street and Sixth Avenue South, donated these materials to the Poynter Library in 2002. The original donation included a scrapbook from the late 1800s and information on a transportation concept developed in the early 1970s.

It appears that the scrapbook contains clippings and hand-copied poetry, prayers, and letters collected by Ms. Morris's mother, Gussie Palmer Morris (nee Colcock), who was the granddaughter of Benjamin Morgan Palmer, a well-known Louisiana preacher from the Civil War and Reconstruction years.

Preservation Note

Materials in this collection occupy scrapbook and file folder. While preservation measures may slow the physical deterioration of such items, these steps cannot prevent damage from occurring. To prevent further damage to the fragile materials in this collection, avoid exposing them to light for an extended period of time. Please report any tears or other damage so that library staff may take appropriate preservation or conservation measures. Protective gloves must be worn when handling all materials in the scrapbook. While no restrictions limit access to this collection, library staff will evaluate photocopying or digitization requests on an individual basis to ensure the long-term preservation of this unique collection. Patrons using this collection must adhere to copyright and fair-use guidelines and provide proper citation of sources appearing in their research.

Provenance of the Betty Morris Scrapbook and Materials

This collection falls under the Humanities provenance of the Special Collections and Archives department, Nelson Poynter Memorial Library, USF St. Petersburg.

Scope and Contents

The contents occupy 0.75 linear ft. The materials fall into two distinct categories: a scrapbook with materials from the 1890s and documents related to the AUTOMON highway concept from the early 1970s.

Outline of Materials in Related to the AUTOMON

Reports in this folder include several materials related to the AUTOMON-Hi-Way Concept proposed by Linden LaRue Perrine in 1974. "Off the surface, it is a bridge and ribbon building structure having an automated highway for electronically controlled cars on top, the AUTOMON (automatic monorailroad) suspended under it, with parking space in between and enough rentable space in the base structure to pay all the costs." Students of architecture and urban planning will find these reports fascinating for their ambitious attempt to reduce land use and provide public transportation to the masses. Another report, written by Ernest Lagelbauer, called Advanced Design Gas Centrifuge proposes a system to use oxygen instead of air as a fuel oxidizer.
