Electives Take Students into City Art Scene

Beginning and intermediate drawing and painting classes offered through USFSP at Saltcreek Artsworks are helping shape the identity of St. Petersburg as the cultural hub of Central Florida. While most enrolled students are non-art majors, the courses allow them to explore the arts in the heart of the art community.

I am USF St. Petersburg: Kathleen Carvalho-Knighton

Kathleen Carvalho-Knighton was born in Brooklyn, NY, but grew up in Miami, Florida. Gifted in science, she always enjoyed studying and acquiring scientific knowledge and information. She won first place in her high school science fair by building a foot-long bridge out of balsa wood that held weights up to 96 pounds.

She completed her undergraduate work at Valdosta State University in Valdosta, Georgia where she was introduced to her first research project. After completing the project, which examined the phosphate inhibition of calf intestinal alkaline phosphatase, she knew she was destined to complete a Ph.D. in Chemistry and determined the courses allow them to conduct research in chemistry.
