Finding Instructional Graphics in Creative Commons

Want to find awesome instructional graphics to use in your online course?

Join us for a hands-on workshop using Tag Galaxy and Compfight. Learn to search for graphics, navigate copyrights, download images, and add them to your courses. Tag Galaxy mixes tag searching with the visual concept of searching through a galaxy and is one of the most interesting ways to search for images. Compfight is a search engine that locates Creative Commons licensed photos that are free.

Get ready to find instructional graphics that are out of this world...and free to use.
