I AM USF ST. PETERSBURG: BARNALI DIXON

“My mother was a professor of economics at the University of Calcutta in India and I knew when grew up I wanted to be just like her.” Barnali Dixon did grow up following in her mother’s footsteps. For the past three years as an Assistant Professor in the Environmental Science Policy and Geography program, Barnali has taught courses in Geographic Information Systems and conducts research on how contaminates move from the surface to the ground waters that end up in the bay and the gulf.
