WUSF-TV Goes To Color

Color television broadcasting on a big scale came to WUSF-TV, Channel 16, at USF on Jan. 19, when two new color cameras were used to videotape the USF-Florida State homecoming basketball game.

The homecoming game was covered with two new RCA color cameras, which will be used for remote, or out of the studio, broadcasting. Two more of the same $31,000 cameras are expected in March for studio broadcasting, which means that WUSF-TV will have full color capabilities.

The station has been collecting color equipment for a number of years. In 1971 transmitter and videotape facilities were colorized. The addition of a color film camera for use with slides and 16-millimeter film came in 1973. The four new cameras will complete the change-over from black and white.

The new color cameras also will benefit Your Open University (YOU), the USF college credit courses offered to off-campus students. Award-winning Professor Bruce Marsh will teach an art course in Quarter III, which will be presented in color.

Chemistry experiments in YOU classes will also gain added value with the addition of color.

Conference Set

A three-day conference on the "Marine Environmental Implications of Offshore Drilling in the Eastern Gulf of Mexico" will be held Jan. 31-Feb. 2 at the St. Petersburg campus. The State University System Institute of Oceanography (SSIO) and the Florida Coastal Coordinating Council (FCCC) are coordinating and administering the conference.

It is hosted by the USF St. Petersburg campus and its Marine Science Institute and the Florida Department of Natural Resources on the St. Pete campus.

The conference is open to all interested persons at no charge. Reservations are necessary through the SSIO office on the St. Petersburg campus, 896-5197.

Sessions on Jan. 31 and the morning of Feb. 1 will feature talks by various federal and state agencies including the Bureau of Land Management and Environmental Protection Agency, and by other speakers on the petroleum industry, marine law, etc. The remaining day and a half will feature technical sessions on physical, biological, geological and chemical oceanography and workshops to work out programs and cooperation on offshore environmental decisions.

Educational Conference Set

Around 600 delegates are expected to attend the conference of the Florida Association of Secondary Curriculum Developers at the Riverside Hilton (formerly Manger Motor Inn) on Jan. 31, Feb. 1 and 2.

Dr. Joseph Bondi, of the College of Education, is president of the statewide group. The theme will be "Alternatives Within Quality Education."

Co-chairmen of the event will be Mrs. Charlotte Eden, elementary education supervisor for Hillsborough County and Prof. Irene M. Sexton, of the USF faculty.

Two Appointments Made

Fred Power, Assistant Professor of Business, has been appointed by President Cecil Mackey to the interinstitutional insurance committee.

This committee will review current State University System insurance offerings and attempt to design one program for the system.

John Weicherding, Director of Personnel Services, was appointed USF's collective bargaining communicator by President Mackey.

Weicherding will act as the liaison between USF and the Chancellor's office in collective bargaining matters.

Both appointments were requested of the Council of Presidents by Chancellor Robert Mautz.

USF'ers Get Medical Grant

A $20,250 grant from the Florida Regional Medical Program has been awarded to a University of South Florida professor-Veterans Administration Hospital doctor to gather data on hospital-acquired infections which affect 10 percent of all hospital patients in the United States.

The award is to Dr. Charles P. Craig, associate professor of medicine in the USF College of Medicine and associate chief of staff for research and education at Tampa's VA Hospital, for work through June, 1974.

Dr. Craig anticipates that results of his study will be used to educate hospital personnel (from doctors and nurses to housekeepers and engineers), to develop an effective system for infection control within hospitals and to provide a clearing house of information for doctors on how to treat patients who acquire infections.

Housing Sought For Visiting Students

Host families are needed for 18 visiting Argentine students (15 men, 3 women) arriving in Tampa at noon on February 4, and departing the morning of February 18. These students are visiting the Tampa Bay Area under the Rockefeller sponsored Operation Amigo program.

Obligations of the host family include the following: 1) meeting your assigned student at International Airport on Sunday, Feb. 4; 2) providing housing for the student; 3) if possible, attending some of the University-sponsored functions with the student; 4) providing transportation to and from the University in the morning and evening.

(Provision of any meals is optional.)

If you're interested in housing one or more of these students, please contact either Dr. Margaret B. Fisher, 974-2151, or Mrs. Mildred Singletary, 974-2615, immediately. You will then be given additional information on the program and on your student(s).

Opera Program Scheduled

A sparkling assortment of scenes from well-known operas will be sung by student members of the University of South Florida Opera Workshop in a free concert scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Jan. 24-26. The event will be held in the Theatre Centre (TAC) Room 130.

Twenty student vocalists, under the direction of music department faculty member Everett E. Anderson, will present scenes from eleven operas. Comedy, tragedy and narrative dramas are represented in the program. Included are duets, trios, quartets and quintets from such works as "The Old Maid and the Thief," "Cosi Fan Tutti," "Magic Flute," "Norma," and "Don Giovanni."

Stage direction is by Annmary Dickey and Jerald Reynolds, also of the music department faculty. Accompanists are pianists Earl Flutz, Perrelli Liston and John Beeman.
