USF's Oracle Wins Award

The Oracle, the University of South Florida's student edited newspaper, received an All American rating in the annual judging of collegiate newspapers by the Associated Collegiate Press.

Editor of the Oracle during the period of judging was Robert Fiallo, now a graduate student in journalism at the University of South Carolina. Managing editor was Laurel T. Beeman, now serving as editor.

The Oracle has received an All American rating for seven straight years. Last spring the newspaper was designated the best in the Southeast by Sigma Delta Chi, the national professional journalism society, and was previously twice designated the best in the Southeast by Sigma Delta Chi, the national professional journalism society, and was previously twice designated the top collegiate paper in the nation by the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

College of Education Sponsors Discussion Panel

The USF College of Education will hold a panel discussion on educational evaluation on Nov. 7 from 3-4 p.m. in LAN 116.

Faculty and students are invited to hear Prof. J. Thomas Hastings, director of the Center for Instructional Research and Curriculum Evaluation at the University of Illinois; Prof. Leslie McLean, Chairman of the Department of Computer Applications at the Ontario Institute for Studies in Education, University of Toronto; and USF faculty members John Pollman and Richard Jaeger.

Dr. John Sisco, acting chairman of the speech department will moderate the panel.

Dr. McLean will also speak on "Evaluation of Programs in Aesthetic Education" in UC 252 on Nov. 7 from 7-8:30 p.m.

Indian Dance Theatre Scheduled

The Kathakali Dance Theatre of South India will be the first USF Artist Series production of the 1973-74 season. Performers are members of the Kerala Kalamandalam Company, the leading Kathakali dance troupe.

Kathakali, which dates from about the 16th century, is a traditional South Indian theatrical from which combines stylized elements of mime, dance, staging, vocal and instrumental music, costuming and makeup in order to define character types and retell stories from the major Hindu epics.

The Nov. 2 performance of "Mahabharata" and the Nov. 3 performance of "Ramayana" are set for 8:30 p.m. in the USF University Theatre. The events are sponsored by the Florida Center for the Arts.

Reserved seat tickets at $4 ($2 for full-time USF students) went on sale Oct. 19 and may be obtained by calling the USF Theatre Box Office (974-2323).

Jaycees Honor USF Grad

USF graduate Luis Alvarez has been selected as one of the nation's top five secondary school teachers by the national Jaycees.

A math teacher at Seth McKeel Junior High in Lakeland, Alvarez received a silver tray for his achievement and accepted a $500 check from the Outstanding Secondary Educators of America which will go to Seth McKeel in Alvarez' name.

Alvarez came to the U.S. from Cuba in 1962 and graduated from Key West High School. Before entering USF, he attended Florida Keys Junior College.

In addition to this most recent award, he was selected as one of the top five young men in Lakeland by the Jaycees and the top secondary educator in the State of Florida.
