Four Receive State Awards

Four Career Service staff members received a total of $210 last week for suggestions they made to the State Awards Program.

Taking part in the presentation ceremony were USF President Cecil Mackey, Vice President for Administration Ken Thompson and State Awards Program Coordinator Jimmy Dennard.

The four award winners and their suggestions were:

- Frank DeBartolo, Groundskeeper, received $50 for his suggestion for the use of a metal cover slate for the area behind wall-mounted restroom fixtures. This eliminates tearing out a wall each time drains and traps need servicing.
- Mary Myers, Custodial Supervisor, was awarded $100 for her suggestion to replace metal trash containers with larger, safer plastic ones requiring less maintenance.
- Lucien Saunders, Building Construction Coordinator, received $35 for his suggestion to replace electrically welded basketball hoops and backstops with the type which can be mounted by nut and bolt assembly.
- Joseph Turbeville, manager of Laboratories in the College of Natural Sciences Physics Department, was awarded $25 for his suggestion of reducing the cost of reproducing lantern slides by using a Xerox Copier to reduce drawing and to print them on sheet of Zeral material.

Any Career Service employee is eligible to win cash awards for making suggestions which are constructive, save time, money and effort and are adopted and placed in effect.

Suggestion forms may be found on the State Award bulletin boards located throughout the campus or by calling USF's State Awards Coordinator, Diane Brown, in Personnel Services.

Administrative Positions Analyzed

By Equal Opportunity Program

A total of 29 women and 5 black persons hold administrative positions in Academic Affairs, according to a report released recently by Vice President Carl Riggs. There are 137 such positions, which include those of the deans, chairpersons, directors and persons assisting them in administrative roles (2/3 of whom are women).

As the chart indicates, the positions held by women include: dean (one); acting chairperson (two); director (six); assistant to the chairperson (two). Positions held by black administrators are special assistant, director, chairperson, records officer and coordinator of advisement.

Excluding librarian (a position held traditionally by more women than men), there are 22 women administrators in Academic Affairs - about 16% of the total. The representation of black administrators is about 3%. According to Equal Opportunity Coordinator Jim Vickrey, both figures are lower than they should be and increasing them is a major goal of the USF Equal Opportunity Program.

A copy of the entire report can be obtained from Ms. Pat Cecilia (ext. 2154).
