University of South Florida.
USF Hosts First Sessions Of ‘Report to the People’

The State University System began taking its story to the people Monday as over 300 crowded into Tampa’s Holiday Inn Central to participate in the first Report to the People series.

(The second meeting was held Tuesday at the St. Pete Campus.)

Chancellor E.T. York, the nine presidents of the State universities and Regent Chester Ferguson covered various SUS-related topics focusing on increasing enrollments and decreasing human and financial resources.

"From 1972-75, SUS headcount rose 33 percent, F.T.E. rose 18 percent and actual appropriations decreased by 2 percent," York said in his presentation.

"Since 1960, we have been adding approximately 5,900 students a year to the system. That's equivalent to adding one average sized university each and every year."

Excerpts from Monday's Report to the People program will be aired on WUSF-TV Channel 16 tonight at 7:30 as part of Florida Public Broadcasting Service's "Florida Report."

WUSF-TV crews videotaped the event.

Other topics covered included: problems of unfunded growth such as loss of faculty and deterioration of quality; the low level of support Florida assigns higher education; BOR actions establishing budget priorities; and alternatives to unfunded growth such as enrollment limitations.

Following the presentation, President Cecil Mackey served as moderator for a question-and-answer session from the audience. Several areas were discussed such as: collective bargaining, enrollment caps, salaries, the semester system and articulation agreements.

In addition to members of the general public, audience members consisted of alumni of several state universities, area legislators and other office holders, SUS students, faculty and staff.

The Report to the People tour schedule calls for the Chancellor, the presidents and regents members to be throughout the state during the next few months. Meetings are scheduled to be held: Dec. 1 in West Palm Beach; Dec. 2 in Fort Lauderdale;
